ADMISSION TO BE FREE FOR THE PLAYOFF

Students will be admitted free to the intercollegiate hockey championship playoff at the Forum this Friday night according to an announcement made yesterday afternoon by Major D. Stuart Forbes, Athletics Manager. Coupon number 31 will be used for admission. The situation in the hockey playoff is exactly the same as that in rugby this fall, it was pointed out, charge to present free admission but it has been decided by those in to this game as a bonus to undergraduates. The McGill athletic board will have to pay for each student present at this game, and the gate receipts are being pooled and belong to the intercollegiate union and not McGill exclusively, as many suppose.

"LOYALTIES" CAST FINALLY ANNOUNCED

Miss Lerner, Wainman and Massy-Beresford Take Leads

AT MOYSE HALL

Ticket Sale for March 5 and 7.
Said to be Progressing
Favorably

The cast for the Players' Club production of "Loyalties" has finally been announced and is reprinted below. C.G.S. Wainman, an experienced actor, having been associated for some time with the famous University of British Columbia Dramatic Society plays the part of General Canynge. F. R. Terroux is cast for the part of Charles Winsor, while D. G. Massey Beresford will play the part of Captain Roland Dancy. Miss Gertrude Lerner plays the wife of the Captain.

Others taking part are R. S. Eve, Miss J. Henderson, D. Denny, J. Scott, Mrs. K. Pinhey, John Scott, H. Sloc, T. G. Jobster, F. W. Poland, F. J. Owen, C. L. Yule, Jr. Henderson, and G. Severs.

The ticket sale is progressing very favorably amongst the student body. The result of the ticket sale downtown is not yet known but there is reason to believe that the sale will be large. Two performances of "Loyalties" will be given, one on Saturday evening, March 5, and another on Monday evening, March 7. Moyse Hall has been secured for both performances and the ample facilities available will be used to advantage.

The lighting effects and general stage handling are being carefully looked after, the up-to-date equipment of the Moyse Theatre in this respect making this possible. Charlie L. Yule, who is Business Manager of the Players' Club is in charge of this department in addition to taking part as a member of the cast.

Tickets for the performance may be procured at the Tuck Shop, Chapman's Book Store or Burton's in addition to any member of the cast. There is a reduction for the student body. Student tickets may be had for 85 cents and the general public price is $1.00. The charge for the tickets is to defray the expenses of the production. No pains are being spared by (Continued on page four.)

The committee in charge feel confident that the banquet will be a great success.

FEMALE LABOR IS PAID BELOW LIVING WAGES

Chairman Of Minimum Wage Board
Sketches Working Conditions

GUSTAVE FRANQ

Some Women are Getting as Low as $1.50 Per Week

"The Minimum Wage Board is doing great work in improving working conditions for women and children in Canada," said Mr. Gustave Franq, the present chairman of the board during his address before the Labor Club last night. The condition of working women in Montreal has been so low that there is one instance at the present time of a young girl who is only receiving $1.50 per week for her labor in a laundry for ten hours a day. Some children work in a jam factory after school hours for a cent per hour, and are actually allowed to imbibe a limited amount of the sticky substance!

In 1919 the Minimum Wage Act was passed, more as a matter of form and an election bribe than a worthy piece of legislation. In the same year an industrial conference was held which resolved that these laws should be applied by the several provinces. At the present time only New Brunswick and P. E. I. are without them. Under the general act only women are included, but in British Columbia some men come under its jurisdiction. Employers tried, and have been successful, in getting around the act by doing away with women and employing boys who do not come under the act. Consequently an amendment has been proposed to include boys under 18. The board is powerless to help the contracting moves by employers to avoid the law. The M. W. Board was constituted in 1926 with four members who served without an honorarium.

Exploratory statistics were the first work engaged on. It was found that through threats of proceedings in law the employers could be forced to approach the working women as they regarded any desire for information as interference with their private affairs. The scope of the Act was merely industrial establishments, excluding commercial interests, and departmental stores, etc. Girls are not protected sufficiently, said Mr. Franque. Every employed woman in Canada should be included in the law because of their moral demand for protection. (Continued on page four.)

CLEVER MUSIC IS FEATURE OF REVUE

Student Composers Turn Out
Catchy Tunes for Show

One of the big novelty song presentations of the Red and White Revue, that includes many other musical compositions of genuine merit and appeal, is the "Song of the Spider and the Fly," the music of which was composed by Howard Turner.

A unique setting in stage effects has been contrived to feature this number, and special electrical displays are being developed to enhance the beauty of the song. Sung by Miss Marion Pidgeon and W. A. Clark, this act will be introduced by the "Spider Chorus," something different in dance ensembles.

The Red and White Revue of 1927 is a predominately musical show, there being fourteen different musical numbers entirely composed by McGill undergraduates. A committee of five talented students musicians, under the capable direction of Lawrence Hart, have worked up songs that will be sure to meet with the approval of the student body and public in general. In fact, the musical part of this year's production will surpass that of any former Revue.

ILLUSTRATED TALK

An illustrated lecture entitled "Jungle Life in India" will be given in Moyse Hall on Friday evening by Mr. Arthur Verney, F.R.G.S. The lecture, which will begin at 8.30 p.m. is in aid of the University Settlement extension fund. Tickets are being sold at $2.00. On Saturday afternoon a special lecture for children will be given in Moyse Hall.

Col. Thompson To Speak To Commercials

Another meeting within two weeks is promised to the members of the Commercial Society when they assemble next Thursday to hear Col. R. Thompson, who will deliver an address on "The Development of Modern Egypt."

Col. Thompson considers that one of the essentials of every man who intends to really lay a sound foundation for his future business life is that he prepare himself in every way possible. One of the few ways in which a man can really become an expert in any kind of business is to know what the condition of trade and industry are in all parts of the world.

ALMA MATER THIS EVENING IN UNION

Novel Decorations Will Enhance Last Dance

The patrons for the Alma Mater tonight are Sir Arthur Currie, Lady Currie, Dean and Mrs. C. F. Martin, Dean and Mrs. H. Mr. Mackay, Dean and Mrs. I. A. Mackay, Hon. Mr. Justice and Mrs. R. A. E. Green-shields, Dean and Mrs. A. W. Thornton and Col. and Mrs. W. Bovey.

The committee expects representatives from Varsity, Queen's, Laval, Trinity College, Osgood Hall, and Bishop's College.

The decoration committee with several volunteers have been toiling over the week-end and have almost completed their work. The guests tonight will be welcomed by Streamers of red and white. The decorations in the ballroom, however, are more original. They would prove of infinite delight to Mr. Henry Ford, for the room has been changed into a barn. Who betide the dignified senior who carelessly loans against the wrong side of a horse or allows his shoelace to dangle temptingly beneath the hungry eyes of the goat! Fred Gross and Howard Turner with their orchestras will provide music from a field of waving wheat. As the morals of the undergraduates must be protected, no one shall be allowed to climb into the hayloft. The stalls of the barn will provide sitting-out places for the dancers, let us hope that no stag will spitefully "play dog in the manger".

But in spite of Henry Ford and the decorations the following program does not include a single square dance

1928 ANNUAL NOW NEARING COMPLETION

Entire Book Will Be In Hands Of
Printers By End Of Week

READY IN APRIL

Club Secretaries Asked to Assist Board by Handing in Annual Reports

"Old McGill, 1928" will be complete and ready for distribution by about the middle of April," said Paul Casey, of Law, editor-in-chief of this year's annual in an interview yesterday. "We expect to have all the material in the hands of the printers by the end of this week, thus giving them over a month to arrange and publish the book."

This means that the work of the 1928 annual board is rapidly drawing to a close. All that remains to be done to collect odd articles and write-ups, which are late in being turned in, arrange the last few group pictures, and in short attend to the few odds and ends which are always left to the last moment. In doing this the board needs the co-operation of all those secretaries and others who are responsible for the writing of the various articles. There are still some undergraduate clubs who have either failed to have their picture taken or have not as yet sent in their write-ups. These would be materially assisting the board if they could attend to these matters before the end of the week.

In other channels the work is proceeding most satisfactorily. J. Gordon Nelles, the Managing editor, reports that the subscription campaign has been making good progress. This is particularly the case in the junior and senior years, where most of the men have already signed for their copy. The reports from the first two years have not been so encouraging. This is probably due to the fact that there are many, especially in first year, who do not know exactly what the annual is or do not appreciate its value.

Recording as it does a complete account of undergraduate affairs for the year, the Annual has both a present and future value, firstly as a source of all kinds of useful information about men and affairs about college, and secondly as a record of the year which can be kept for many years and referred to later to call back the happy memories of years spent at McGill.

The annual is a handsome volume, one that holds a conspicuous place in any library. Within it contains pictures (Continued on Page Four)

PROFESSOR CANNON AT MEDICAL DINNER

Annual Function Will be Held Saturday Evening

Professor Walter B. Cannon will be the guest of honor at the annual Medical Banquet which is being held at the Mount Royal Hotel on Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Prof. Cannon, who has been Geo. Higginson Professor of Physiology at Harvard Medical School since 1906, has a world-wide reputation for his researches in the mechanical factors of digestion, and the bodily changes incidental to the emotions of pain, hunger, fear and rage. In 1917, he was selected by the President of the American Red Cross to preside over their work in medical research at the front. In 1919, he received the British decoration, Commander of the Bath, and the D. S. M. from his native land. Since the war, he has published a book on "Traumatic Shock" and many articles on medical education and research.

Prof. Cannon is Chairman of the Extension Committee of Alpha Omega Alpha, and has consented to address a special open meeting of McGill's medical faculty undergraduates, and members of the various hospital staffs, under the auspices of the local chapter. The subject of the address will be "Recent Studies on the Glands of Internal Secretion"; the date of the meeting, Friday, March 4th; the place, Biological Bldg., and the time, 5.15 p.m.

During his stay in Montreal, Prof. Cannon will be the guest of Dean C. F. Martin, of Medicine.

Newfoundland Banquet To Be Next Thursday

The Newfoundland Club will hold its Annual Dinner at the Queens Hotel on Thursday, March 3, at 7 p.m. This banquet will be the final event of the club's activities this term, and the executive have been focussing their energies on this function in order to wind up the season successfully.

Professor J. C. Simpson has consented to act as speaker. Those who have heard him speak before will realize that this speech should prove one of the features of the evening.

Representatives from the Newfoundland Club of Montreal will be present at the dinner as well as the students and attractive souvenir program are being provided for the occasion. All Newfoundlanders are urged to (Continued on page four.)

FIRST COPIES OF MARTLET ON SALE

Stories by Well-known
Authors are Featured

25 CENTS

Forty Pages of Cartoons
Jokes and Humorous
Stories

The first issue of the McGill Martlet appeared on the campus yesterday evening. Copies were sold at 25c in the Union Tuck Shop and judging by the rapidity of sales, the magazine seems to have found favor with the student body.

The cover-depicts a typical collar-add made garbed in a McGill Sweater while the title of the magazine is printed across the top of the page in the University Colors.

The magazine consists of forty pages of jokes, cartoons and humorous stories. The four main articles are by well known writers connected with McGill University: "The Colleges and Humor", by Stephen Leacock, "Critic Critters" by Frank L. Packard; "An Interview with Stephen Leacock" by Frank D. Genest; and "Reminiscences" by Frank Shaughnessy.

There are thirty-odd cartoons in all the majority of which are by undergraduates including: Jeff Chapleau, M. L. Schwartz, B. L. Lapin, J. B. Hamilton, D. R. McCurdy, and I. R. Glasco.

A number of prominent undergraduates have combined in producing the magazine: L. A. Dowling, Editor-in-chief; A. K. Doull, Associate Editor; W. A. Clark, Secretary; E. W. Brodie, Business Manager and J. W. Chapleau Art Editor.

The editors plan to produce three editions of the Martlet before the end of this term. The next issue will appear about the middle of this month. The cover design, it is asserted will change from month to month. More stories, more illustrations, more jokes, will appear in each.

STUDENT BODY WILL CONSIDER NEW PROPOSAL

Motion To Change Representation On Council Submitted

CENTRALIZATION

Three New Bodies Will be Formed by Amalgamation of Existing Ones

A motion to reorganise the representation on the Students' Executive Council will be brought up at the meeting of the McGill Students' Society which is to be held two weeks from tomorrow in the ball room of the Union. Considerable discussion regard to the present representation on the council has been going through rounds of late, and has culminated in several students getting together and working out a definite plan.

The motion has been proposed by W. H. Budden, Commerce '29, and seconded by Lawrence E. Hart, Arts '27. This follows closely on the motion to include a representative of theology on the council, and both suggestions should arouse considerable discussion. The exact motion submitted by Budden and Hart, and signed by most of the men whose positions will be affected, reads:

Whereas it is felt that certain undergraduate activities could operate more satisfactorily if reorganized and given representation on the Students' Executive Council;

We move that the following bodies be formed, of which the respective chairmen will occupy seats in the Students' Executive Council:

- 1—A publications board to include The Daily, The Annual, etc., and department of advertising. (The Chairman to be the Editor-in-Chief of the Daily).
- 2—A Musical and Dramatic Association, to include:
The Players' Club.
The Red and White Revue.
The Music Club.
The University Band.
The Banjo and Mandolin Club.
The Choral and Operatic Society. (The president to be elected from the Student body.)
- 3—A McGill Debating Union, an amalgamation of:
The McGill Canadian Club.
The Literary and Debating Society, with the combined aims of these societies. (The president to be elected from the Student Body).

In anticipation of the formation of these societies:
We hereby give notice of motion to (Continued on page four.)

SCARLET KEY TEA DANCE SATURDAY

Red and White Revue Artists
Will Entertain With Songs

At a meeting of the Scarlet Key Society held yesterday final arrangements were completed for the Tea Dance to be held on Saturday.

Fred Gross' seven piece orchestra will provide the music and the catering will be in the capable hands of Pierre and his assistants.

The decorations from the Alma Mater Dance will remain up until after the Tea Dance due to the courtesy of the committee.

Entertainment will be provided by prominent artists in the Red and White Revue who will introduce several of the song hits from the forthcoming show.

Several fraternity parties are being arranged and table reservations can be made through J. P. Diplock, Arts '28 (Atlantic 5259). Tickets may be obtained at $2.00 each from members of the society.

Plans were also discussed at the meeting for the entertainment of the skiers who are coming up from the States to compete in the international meet, being held here this week end. It is the intention of the Society to board the skiers at the Field House while meals will be served at the Union.

Reports were also given by the members entrusted with the entertainment of the Toronto and Queen's Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Teams, and judging from the remarks of the managers of these teams the Scarlet Key is more than justifying its existence at McGill.

The Martlet

It is with feelings of pleasurable satisfaction that we welcome to our University another freshman, a little late in the year perhaps but none the less welcome for that. The McGill Martlet, which appeared for the first time on the campus, is indeed a sister publication of which the Daily may well be proud. The editors are to be felicitated on giving to their fellow-students something that they want and something that cannot be very well carried on in any other way than as a private venture.
As to the first issue of the Martlet itself, on the matter of general appearance they are to be complimented. They have at least been original enough to get away from the stereotyped form of the college humorous magazine and have achieved an appearance which, for a first number, is decidedly professional. We are also glad to observe that they are decidedly above ourselves in freedom from typographical errors which are so prone to creep in unless carefully watched. So much for the physical make-up.
Professor Leacock, always to be depended upon to help any venture of McGill students, has contributed a feature article. St. Whiffletree, better known to our older brothers than to ourselves through his contributions to the Daily of several years ago, Frank Shaughnessy, just as much to be depended upon for help as Professor Leacock, and Frank L. Puckard also added their contribution to the new periodical. The editors are indeed favored in being able to get articles by these men. It is hoped that they are always able to obtain articles from such well-known personages.
We note several drawings by Mr. J. M. Meekison, well-known commercial artist of Montreal. Mr. Meekison, who was one of the judges of the Red and White Revue poster competition, has shown considerable interest in McGill. The other art work is of high order. The jokes being well thought out and illustrated. There might be a few more original jokes but one cannot expect a first number to be perfect.
On the whole the McGill Martlet is above the average magazine of its type, and McGill need not be ashamed to own it. Let us hope that subsequent issues are as good. Best of luck McGill Martlet.

That Coon-skin Coat

TAKE that coon-skin coat off your son and put him in moleskin breeches. Let him learn to prefer the odour of clean fresh air and the honest perspiration of the gridiron to the subtle perfumes of the dance halls. Let him learn to enjoy the plaudits of the spectators, earned by his own efforts, against strong opposition, to the jazz music of the modern orchestra.
Such was the advice given by Coach Frank Shaughnessy, to the parents of McGill undergraduates in his address on "Intercollegiate Athletics" at the concert given by the McGill Musical Association recently, and it is not hard to understand what our worthy mentor meant by this counsel.
We might not all express ourselves exactly as Mr. Shaughnessy did, nor perhaps in so direct a way. We certainly do not wish to condemn a person because he wears a fur coat; nor do we wish to put into one class all those who attend dances. Indeed, one, who is in a position to wear a warm and comfortable coon-skin covering in this hardy clime of ours, is distinctly wise in doing so; while the undergraduate who spurns college dances is not worthy of consideration.
But behind all this looms up the undoubted fact that there are too many at McGill who are prone to wander round in comfort and amuse themselves, allowing all responsibility to rest on the shoulders of a few. This is seen both in the field of athletics and in other activities about the Campus. More than ever this year the rank and file of McGill have given themselves over to amusement. Dances have been more frequent and better attended than last year; jazz teas have been regular and seem to be becoming a permanent fixture; while dinners and parties of all sorts have been very numerous.
Of course these things are all very well in their own way, but one cannot help feeling that they are being stressed at the expense of indoor and outdoor sports and useful activities. It is a deplorable state of affairs that there are fewer men turning out for teams this year simply because there are no physical attendance rules. But this is the case, and there are many athletic clubs who have found it hard to field a representative team this year, owing to lack of interest. In the same way several fine organizations have been forced to lessen or abandon their activities through lack of student support.

All this demands thought and possibly action. We do not suggest that all coon-coated men be grabbed and paraded on the football field, nor that the dance halls be searched for possible slackers. It is up to every individual to do his share, remembering that there is plenty of work for everyone to do.

Thanks Athletic Board

McGILL students owe thanks to the Athletic Board in their decision to honor student tickets for admission to the hockey game with Toronto this week. The Athletic Board were not bound to do so, the game is not a McGill home game but is being played under the Union, and the gate receipts are being pooled. Under this system the Athletic Board may suffer an actual loss by there being a play-off instead of profiting by it.

At Local Theatres This Week

AT THE IMPERIAL

Although the name "Man Bait", suggests a sensational plot, it is the usual story of a shop girl marrying into society, and receiving a cool reception. The rest is not unusual. In the vaudeville the headliner is Arthur and Morton Havel in "O Uncle". This a miniature revue wound around the love affairs of boys and girls. The way in which the boys managed to meet the girls, by masquerading as their own uncles, is full of humorous situations which keep the house in continuous laughter.

Stan Kavanagh appeared in a mixture of juggling and humor. He showed great proficiency with his three balls and in keeping the audience in an uproar by his untimely remarks.

The Dippy Divers were seen in a combined juggling and clown act. They were very successful in frightening several people near the front. Bard and Avon harmonized well in singing several popular songs. Lydia Barry, a veteran of some ninety years experience, was very entertaining in a really original skit. Rhoda and Br shell carried on a flirtation over their concertines, and ended up with a dance. There was a very good "Felix the Cat" comedy and the usual news reel.

AT THE CAPITOL

There is little doubt that the French production of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" which is the screen offering of the Capitol for the week is one of the most engrossing pictures shown in Montreal for some time. The many exciting adventures tempered by a great human interest and pathos which occur in the great French novelist's masterpiece lend themselves easily to portrayal and the acting of the Gabriel Gabrio in the part of Jean Valjean is admirable.

The story is familiar to every schoolboy. Valjean an upright young woodcutter steals a loaf of bread to feed the starving children of his sister. He is apprehended and sentenced to five years imprisonment for the crime. This is extended to nineteen because of his attempts to escape. After his release he suffers from the stigma of his criminal record and his desires to lead a decent life are thwarted at every step until the kindness of a priest who sheltered him led to his repentance.

He goes to another town assumes another name and soon rises to be Mayor. He is compelled to declare himself and he leaves the place and goes to Paris. Here he begins all over again with his ward, Cossette to whom he is greatly attached. A magnificent filming of a revolution is shown at this stage.

Valjean finally dies, happy in the thought that the ones he loved were united in marriage. The picture is sad but devoid of the slobbering sentimentalism which usually mar pictures of this sort.

A musical cameo under the direction of Maurice Meerte, Canada's Boy Wonder, precedes the feature presentation.

AT THE PALACE

Love implies faith in one another, and "Love's Greatest Mistake" is when this faith wavers, and is replaced by doubt. The musical background and love theme accompanying this screen drama is the popular waltz "Tonight You Belong to Me." This musical setting is very appropriate and suggestive.

The story, which won the $50,000 prize in the Liberty Magazine Story Contest, deals with the adventures of Honey McNoll, who comes from the country to stay with her sister in New York. The night clubs, the doubtful lovers, the plotters, etc., keeps one constantly interested. The end, however, comes so quickly and unexpectedly, that one is rather disappointed—it is too much like fiction.

The Palace diversifications, consisting of Andy Tiplade and his Melody Kings, a ballet dancer, and a popular singer, and other short features, including a comedy which kept the audience constantly in fits of laughter, rounded out a good evening's entertainment.

The Flake On Regina's Nose

I saw you last upon the snows:
A snowy flake fell on your nose;
'Twas meant for me, alas who knows,
But you just had to interpose.

Your cheeks your lips, metamorphose,
A smile so sweet, so saccharose
As ne'er in heaven seen, arose,
Through that I'll flake upon your nose.

We stray for miles among the snows,
Such silly fools, the saying goes:
Yet 'twas that flake upon your nose,
Enticed us from all worthy woes.

Toward home you 'gan to turn your toes,
The reason you would not disclose,
But lo, my mind became morose,
Because your "nosey" snowflake froze.

Alone I weep in sullen throes,
Without my hut the rude wind blows,
While I these worthless lines compose
About that flake upon your nose.

With Our Dads And Grand-Dads

A collection of jokes and articles at which our fathers laughed; copied from McGill magazine of a former day.

'Twas on the good ship Alcohol
Yo! Ho! Ho! and a bottle of booze,
They hardly ever worked at all
Yo! Ho! Ho! and a bottle of booze,
They made the donkey engine go
By pouring in C H 6 O,
A very good fuel as perhaps you know,
Yo! Ho! Ho! and a bottle of booze.

Fifteen drunks on a horrible stew,
Yo! Ho! Ho! and a bottle of booze,
Copious drinks had pickled the crew
Yo! Ho! Ho! and a bottle of booze,
They were so full they could not stand
Indeed it was a gallant band
That sailed in search of no Man's Land
Yo! Ho! Ho! and a bottle of booze.

Topics Of The Day

Three young male collegians, or at least such is my supposition that they were males, for they wore pants, smoked pipes, and drank beer, were seated in a room, engaged in the above occupations, together with a fervent discussion on the Topics of the day viz:—"The Cauliflower as a National Asset" by the Hon. Green Cabbage, "The Present Political Situation in China," and "The Price of Spagetti in Alaska."

The discussion waxed fast and furious, especially on the last named subject, when the great by-word "Peaches" was uttered, and the heated discussion on the previous subjects instantly terminated, and the fun was on.

"Ah!" said one of the three, "did you read the 'Daily World' when it stated that Mr. Browning wanted 'Peaches' to dance in the nude."

"Well!" replied another of the trio, "nothing like that happens at a class dance, so why all the excitement?"

"Now!" replied the third member of the, to my mind, disgusting quartet, less one, I shall have my spoke, and this is what I heard.

"A certain College in the U. S. A. was two thousand strong and of that number, at least sixteen hundred were men and it is known from good authority, that seventy-nine per cent of the male students of that College were sending offers of 'till death do us part', to 'Peaches'."

After that I would listen to no more, so I crept away from the key-hole, with curious thoughts regarding all students, without any College exemption.

The Indians of the three prairie provinces, last season produced approximately 1,000,000 bushels of grain of which about half, or 488,000 bushels was wheat, according to a recent government report. There are about 35,000 Indians in the area in question, and the portions reserved for their use, include some of the most fertile land of the west. They had 97,000 acres of land under cultivation in 1926, and they own about 25,000 head of cattle, and about 35,000 horses of a good type.

Nearly 100 messengers of the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs were the guests of the Company at a banquet in the Windsor Street Station banquet hall recently. The complimentary dinner was tendered to the boys as a token of appreciation of the service rendered to the company and the public in their daily delivery of telegraph messages throughout Montreal.

Warren Cordingly, of Ashton, Idaho, won the $5-mile dog race from Calgary to Banff, held recently in connection with the Banff annual Winter Carnival. The race was one of the hardest fought in the history of these events. Cordingly's lead dog broke down, and was carried to the finish line on the sled. Ike Mills' team, of Banff, picked to win the race, was attacked by town dogs near Calgary. Both driver and dogs were badly bitten, but stuck to the trail and finished.

Applications for permits to develop hydro power in Western Ontario, and Northern Manitoba, are on a scale that represents an ultimate volume of 5,000,000 horse-power, indicating the industrial growth that the territory is achieving. These range all the way from the Lake of the Woods country to the basin of the Nelson River, and relate to pulp and paper mills, mining plants, civic hydro promotion, and transportation projects.

During 1927, more than 6,000 Hungarians will emigrate to Canada, according to Albert de Hayden, Hungarian Consul-General of Canada, who is here on business in connection with the 6,000 countrymen who came to Canada last year. "My investigations have shown," he said, "that on the average, the newly arrived Hungarians are doing fairly well, despite the fact that this is a dull time of the year in farming, and to a lesser extent in industrial plants."

"If they can pitch ball as well as they can snowball, they would be some team; they sure can send some stingers," was the comment of one of the Calgary Scouts as he dug himself out of a concentrated volley of snowballs that the Westminster Scouts had placed on various parts of his body and face, when the Calgary boys tried to enflame the choristers in a snow battle, staged near the C.P.R. station. It was the culmination of a program arranged for the Scout choristers, during the visit to Calgary recently of the Westminster Boy's Choir.

E. W. Beatty announced recently that the Canadian Pacific is to build a thousand room hotel on the site of the old "Queens" at Toronto. The new hotel will be on Front Street opposite the new Union Station, which is to be the largest and finest of the famous line of Canadian Pacific hotels, and it will be Toronto's first big modern hotel entirely owned and operated by a Canadian company.

The number of employees passing the necessary yearly tests is increasing, over 700 employees at the Angus Shops alone now efficient in the work.

CLASS CAGE SQUADS TO PLAY FOR TITLE

Arts I and Sci. III Successful in Elimination Contest

MEET TOMORROW

Law II and Sci. IV Defeated in Semi-final Games; Loures was High Scorer

Arts I and Science III will meet tomorrow for the class basketball championship, for these teams were declared winners in their respective leagues after two of the most closely contested games of the year last night.

The Arts freshmen nosed out the Law sophomores after a thrilling game by a lone point the final score being 23 to 22. Arts I led 18 to 10 at half time.

In the other game the Science juniors defeated their seniors and thereby obtained revenge for the suffering they underwent three years ago when they were merely freshmen and their opponents lordly sophs. The score was tied at 10-10 at half time but the third year plumbers romped away with the game in the second session and finally won out 24 to 18.

The first encounter was perhaps the most interesting of the two. Arts ran up a big lead in the first stanza and at half time were eight points to the good. After the tie game of last Friday the lead looked big enough to take the championship and the lawyers were considered hopelessly out of it.

They came back strong in the second half however and at one time were actually leading by three points. Miller, stellar defence man, was banished shortly after for four personal fouls and this spelt defeat for Law II. Loures of Arts was high scorer with ten points but he was closely followed by Blumstein and Miller who netted nine apiece.

The upper class game was a very closely contested and clean affair well on to the middle of the second period when the seniors suddenly wilted and allowed the opposing team to net four baskets in a row. Three men were tied on the scoring sheet. Frith, Jehu and McConvery netting four baskets apiece.

CLASS BASKETBALL PLAY-OFF TOMORROW

Arts I and Science III will settle their argument for the class basketball championship of the University tomorrow (Wednesday) at 5 o'clock in the Montreal High School gymnasium. The day or hour cannot be changed and both teams are urged to be on time so that the game will not delay the senior practice.

PEOPLE WE HATE

The wild but innocent high school girl.
The college widow that tells us of her escapades with other college men.
The notorious bootlegger who insists on showing signs of recognition when seeing us in public.
The gent that compliments us upon our choice of women, then steps them out himself the following night.
The originator of afternoon teas.
Writers of collegiate humor.
Federal officers.
Editors that refuse our literary efforts.
The co-ed that realizes she is becoming popular.
Men who get drunk on malted beer.
College magazine contributors that scan College Humor for their stuff.
The girl that takes us window shopping.
Women who rush bargain counters.
The girl that asks us if her dresses are too short and then gives us a wicked stare.
Anyone who writes about military drill.
Freshmen fraternity members.
The brothers that vote for increased house bills and then quit school.
Girls who let us know we are only one of the many.
Men who use spring tonics.

AROUND THE HOCKEY CAMPS

With the dates for the play-off with Varsity all arranged the senior hockey squad got down to hard work with a speedy workout yesterday afternoon at the Forum. Now that the squad has the title within its grasp for the first time in several years, the boys are sparing little effort in getting in the finest possible condition.

A big crowd paid its way into the Mount Royal Arena to see the squad win over U. of Montreal, and a still bigger one is expected to use their coupons on Friday night. The game promises to be the treat of the season and a good many outsiders will watch the struggle. The cheers had a great deal to do with last Thursday's win, and the rosters should not spare their throats on Friday night, because it will probably be their last chance to yell before next fall's football season sets in.

The practice yesterday consisted of a game against the strong Northern Electric team who are playing off for the Rail-Phone title. The manner in which the red-shirts ran through their opponents yesterday was a source of pleasure to both the coach and the red followers. The collegians scored at least five goals to about two for their industrial brethren.

HOCKEY STARS PLAY IN BENEFIT MATCH

Game for Relief of Family of Late George Tremblay

The Quebec Amateur Hockey Association of the Province of Quebec have organized a benefit game for relief of the family of the late Georges Edward Tremblay. Secretary Jas. L. Foley of the Senior Group is the Chairman, assisted by J. P. Doran, President of the Railway-Telephone League, R. W. Dickin, President Bankers League, Denis Anderson, President Mount Royal Intermediate League, Desse Brown, Secretary Industrial League, T. Merrigan, Junior City League, Leo E. Burns of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association and Frank Morrissey. The late Georges Edward Tremblay was a member of the Chicoutimi Hockey Club and while playing a schedule game with Kenomig team met with an accident which later proved fatal and he died on December 30th, 1925. The widow is without means, nor is she able to work. Her son is a bright boy and it is believed that support from the benefit game will enable the widow to complete the education of the boy, and in turn, enable him, later on, to maintain his mother.

A few small benefit games, for this cause, have been played at Chicoutimi, but with small financial results. Already assured of the backing of the Railway-Telephone, Bankers, Industrial, Mount Royal Intermediates, Senior Group and Junior League, as well as all other clubs affiliated with the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association in the Province, it is felt that this benefit game will ensure a good contribution from the public towards the relief of the bereaved dependents of this unfortunate victim of clean, manly sport.

The Senior Group all star team will be selected by Coach Frank J. Shaughnessy and will bring together the best players of the province. Individual cups have been donated by A. L. Caron, Cecil M. Hart, Louis Latourneau, Maurice Forget for the winners. In addition each player keeps the sweater of the different league he represents as a souvenir of the event. Judging by the response that the committee have been receiving from the different sportsmen the event will surpass all other benefit games. President A. J. Teakle of the Sons of Ireland, has already volunteered two players from his team to travel to Montreal for the game free of charge.

Mr. Paterson, who was interviewed at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal recently, having arrived from Winnipeg, is travelling with his father and mother, wife, six children and two nurses, by Canadian Pacific route, land and steamship, to England with a view to staying at Bournemouth for the three months.

Reports from Varsity tend to show that the Blue team will send down their strongest aggregation. The Toronto squad showed some speed and skill in downing the Flying Frenchmen at the Arena two weeks ago, and are determined to be the team to oppose their Grads in Allan Cup play downs.

Last night's game between Vics and St. Francois Nationale marked the end of the regular Senior Group schedule. All that remains now is the home and home series between Saints and Sts for the Group title. If McGill is successful in the week end series against Varsity it is quite possible that the collegians will be called upon to meet the winners of the Sons-Saints series.

St. Francois-Nationale looked a much improved team last night. The squad suffered a slump about two weeks ago and lost most of the games they had participated in. The experts shook their heads and said "Too much hockey" but the Frenchmen showed that they are again speeding at the top of their form and should prove stiff opponents to Allan Cup aspirants.

Bill Hughes, Queen's director of athletics refereed the game last night to the satisfaction of all.

THOUGHT MORE MATURE IN EAST

Delegate Thinks Culture Higher in Eastern America

There is an apparent contrast between the East and the far West, in sophistication and maturity of thought, according to Joe Holaday, who attended the student conference held at Milwaukee in December.

"It is apparent from all that I could gather," he said, "that the easterners have arrived at that maturity of thought that is so often thought to be lacking in American student life." Most of the leaders of the conference were from the far East, with only a few from the middle West, said Mr. Holaday.

"On the other hand, a certain direct simplicity and robustness of thought was apparent in those few westerners who took part in discussion and conversation." This was illustrated in the case of the delegates from California, who started the meeting with three rousing cheers for their own state. Afterward, at dinner, they entertained the conference with Californian songs, while coon-skinned eastern collegians looked disdainfully and boredly on.

Groups and clubs, expressly for the discussion of student affairs exist in the eastern colleges, said Mr. Holaday. Agora and Crossroads seem to be the nearest approach to such groups in our own University.

MERMAN PREPARE FOR POLO HONORS

Team Devoting Extra Time to Heavy Practices

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Grads Figure Largely at Workouts — Contest on Saturday

(By the Natatory Nymph)

With the necessity of obtaining a mix goal decision over Toronto on Saturday night the McGill poloists have been working away hard for the last week. Practices have been of the most violent nature and Coach Vernet has spared no means or epithets in inducing his men to acquire the orthodox style. With the honor of never having lost the Intercollegiate title the vigor and energy that has been displayed to overcome this seemingly impossible task has been enough to make the water go up in steam.

Many postmortems have been held over the game in Toronto which gave the wearers of the blue and white the victory by six goals to one and no real cause can be seen other than the fact that Coach Blackwell has reached his desire and during the last three years has trained up a team that is invincible in the Hart House tank. Whether these boys will be able to do the same thing in a tank where there is a shallow end will alone be decided when Toronto plays in the K. of C. Tank on March 5.

McGill has not been lacking in obtaining material that is equally as good as the Toronto team against which to practice. The Grads are the faithful allies of their younger brethren and they have been seen in full force at the practices. McGill cannot be said to be lacking in speed in the forward line or in strength in the defence but the Toronto boys certainly know how to get a speedy lick on the ball when they are in front of goal.

To play a defensive game is all very well in Toronto, but there certainly must be some attacking by the forwards. McGill has got to go ahead and keep in the deep end to be in the region for shooting if the goals have to come at all.
The question of referees has been left in the hands of competent authorities and it is hoped that the game will not be marred to any extent. A strong referee is needed at all times.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

Terribly weary morose and sad
Am I this cold grey morn;
My comrades seem so bright and glad
And I feel so forlorn.

For I start the daily grind at nine,
And at four in the afternoon
I start to work on another line—
Trelawney spells my doom.

I rehearse till the very stars are dim
And the moon prepares for dawn,
Then I plug till my reeling senses swim
And my eyes are all but gone.

"Sir! William cough or grunt or groan!"
Till the weeks roll into months—
"Freshman, why is your work not done?"
Report to the dean at once!"

NATIONALE SQUAD BEAT VICS IN CRUCIAL GAME

French Squad Will Meet Sons For Group Title

St. Francois Nationale hockey squad inflicted a 5 to 1 defeat on the Victoria squad in a sudden death game for a play-off position. As a result the French team will meet Sons of Ireland in a home and home series for the Senior Group title and the right to represent Quebec in the Allan Cup play downs.

The French advantage was evident from the start and Vics were lucky to skate off the ice at the end of the initial period but one goal down. The pace began to tell on Vics soon after the resumption of play and four goals by Pednault and Brunet made the outcome certain. Art Abbott's goal just before the final gong saved the maroon team from a whitewash.

Plus fours have been banned from the chemistry building at the University of Washington.—Ex.

Col. Thompson is peculiarly adapted to speaking on the subject of Egypt as during the world war, he spent a great part of his two years and a half in the East in Egypt. He knows a great deal about city life in that immense country and is equally fitted to talk about the country regions due to the contact he had with natives of the agricultural regions while on travels through that country.

of everybody at college, amusing cartoons, special articles on controversial subjects of interest, and the records and reports of all clubs and societies around the Campus. As it is a publication issued by the junior year, this class occupies a prominent place in the book, individual pictures and biographies of all third year men being included.

This year particular attention has been paid in an endeavour to "liven up" the book. The cartoons are all of a clever and amusing nature and have been selected from a large number handed in. R. C. Betts, the Art editor, has spent considerable time on this end of the publication, and the drawings by himself and his associates are a distinct feature of "Old McGill 1928".

Several new ideas have been introduced this year with the hope of making the book less dull than in the past, the editors realizing the monotony of rows of names and pictures coming page after page. In another direction the book will be of more interest, as more feature articles by students around college on various topics have been introduced.

Thus in every way this year's annual is expected to live up to the standards set in the past. The advertising campaign, although slow and somewhat discouraging, at first is now well under way and proceeding in a most satisfactory manner.

For those who are still in the dark about the way in which the book may be purchased it might be explained that this may be done in two ways. First by paying the necessary $2.75 on receipt of the book, or by instructing the board to have this sum deducted from the caution money deposited with the bursar at the beginning of the year. Subscription lists can be obtained from the class officers in almost any class and from the faculty representatives on the board. Those who desire annuals must sign these lists so that a copy can be ordered for them. Those who have not yet signed are urged to do so immediately so that this side of the work may also be concluded.

The difference between Canada and the U. S. in this respect is seen by fact that half the courts in the U. S. declare Minimum Wage Act to be illegal, while in Canada they are recognized.

The way an investigator for the Board worked was to go to the employer, force him by threats if necessary to yield the desired information, consult the women if possible, and then to attempt to make the employer better conditions. Employers are even urged to take the credit if necessary by informing the women that their pay is being raised because he has seen they are working so well! In the last six months 500 girls have been increased from $5 to $9 per week.

A conference recently of representatives of the employers, workers who are difficult to persuade to attend, and the general public, selected by the chairman of the board drew up a budget of the ordinary working woman in Montreal. The lowest of those submitted by the women who were asked was $10.95, and the highest, $19.81. Board and room, as well as clothing, are $6 to $9 per month. It was surprising the amount wasted over sundries etc. Investigation in Montreal showed $7 per month to a rent for a room. It was higher in the east than the west of the city. Taking these items into account a revised budget was drawn up and set at $12.65 per week for a single woman living alone. The Minimum Wage was accordingly fixed to accord with this.

The orders of the board are subject to revision every year. Quebec is divided into three groups, Montreal, other cities, and the rest of the Province, because of the different Cost of Living in each.

Laundries represent the worst conditions. Girls have long hours, damp surroundings, and often fifth, to contend with, 40 girls in one laundry work for $5 per week. The women are opposed essentially to organization. This is hard to understand. Perhaps they are afraid of being fired. After a year in laundries apprentices get $12 a week, a great improvement over what used to be paid, one plant used to pay $7, another $16.85 per week under the same conditions. On the same street one paid $11, another $8.50 for the same kind of work.

The act does not fix working hours, and the employers take advantage of this. For a long time there was no pay for overtime, but the Board has forced regular rates to be paid at the present time. Factory Acts disallows women working after 9 o'clock; on ships some women are now working for 25 cents from 7 to midnight as waitresses etc.

In Quebec wages are almost $3 per week lower than those in Montreal. Often married men with large families are only receiving $12 per week; with women the wages is much lower although in most cases they get almost as much as the men.

An investigation is going on now in the printing business, and in food-stuff factories. In the first girls get more than $15 per week of 44 hours, and sometimes as high as $25 and $40. In this business equal wages are paid to men and women. This acts as a great stimulus. The average printing-man gets $2300 a year because he is organized. In food factories, some girls get $1.50 (one dollar and fifty cents) per week. Children in a jam factory in Montreal get one cent per hour.

From these facts it is readily seen, said Mr. Franque, that legislation is necessary. It is a great surprise to many that labor is seemingly happy at its lot. Education and organization are needed.
